INVESTMENT ACTIVITY

During the quarter The Koala Company Limited (ASX:KOA) was added to the portfolio. Koala is a direct-to-consumer digital native furniture brand company. We added to our holdings in Temple & Webster, Megaport and Siteminder and trimmed our holdings in PWR and Chrysos Corp.

PORTFOLIO/MARKET COMMENTARY

Developed market shares, as measured by the MSCI World index, fell 6.9% in AUD terms in Q1 2026. A combination of weakness in US software stocks and risk aversion caused by the conflict in the Middle East weighed on global equities.

Australia's economy expanded by 0.8% in Q4 of 2025, marking the 17th consecutive quarter of growth, supported by household spending, private investment and government infrastructure programs. Annual GDP growth reached 2.6%, the fastest in nearly three years. Inflation eased slightly to 3.7%, though remained above the RBA's target, prompting the central bank to raise the cash rate to 4.1% amid persistent inflation risks.

Growth stocks weakened in Q1 2026 primarily due to higher interest rate expectations compressing valuation multiples. Investor rotation toward cyclical sectors, global technology weakness and geopolitical uncertainty further weighed on high-growth companies, particularly software and healthcare names whose valuations depend heavily on long-term earnings expectations. This weakness was seen in our portfolio with Megaport, Nuix and SiteMinder falling more than 30%. Concerns about AI disruption and slowing software spending amplified volatility in the sector in the quarter. Other portfolio companies sensitive to higher interest rates namely ARB Corp, Audinate and Temple & Webster, also fell over 30% during the quarter.

In the midst of short-term volatility in stock prices, our portfolio companies continue to perform operationally, proving the resilience of these quality businesses. HUB24 reported robust inflows and growth in funds under administration as advisers increasingly adopted platform-based wealth solutions. Block continued expanding its Square and Cash App ecosystems, benefiting from rising digital payment volumes and growing consumer financial services adoption. REA reported strong earnings growth driven by higher listings and continued price increases on its Australian real estate advertising platform. Temple & Webster reported strong revenue growth supported by increasing online furniture and homewares sales. Megaport reported continued revenue growth driven by increasing demand for network-as-a-service connectivity.

The Koala Company contributed positively during the quarter, alongside high-precision engineering company PWR Holdings and US-based asset manager GQG Partners. The main detractors were SiteMinder, Temple & Webster, Megaport and ARB.

After another volatile quarter, we continue to see strong results from our portfolio companies which now trade at valuations that fail to reflect their underlying quality and growth trajectories. This presents attractive opportunities for future outperformance for patient investors.
